

Dear School,

On behalf of the New England Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, it is my privilege to invite you to enter the National Student Awards for Excellence Competition. NSTV was established in 2001 as a way to highlight the outstanding talent of high school television production and journalism. Over the past few years the academy has incurred some funding problems with the national program. This year the individual chapters will be offering the program as a regional award. Your school is part of the New England Chapter. The entry process is simple but the contest remains the most competitive in the area.

Student winners will receive a certificate with the Emmy emblem and the winning school as always will receive the statue.

Please feel free to contact the chairperson of New England NSTV Danielle Mannion with any questions or concerns. She can be reached at 508-376-7010 or you may email her at dmannion@millisps.org.

New England High School students have always maintained a professional standard in their entries. We look forward to viewing your entries and celebrating your outstanding work.

Sincerely,

Timothy Egan
President, New England Chapter
National Academy of TV Arts & Sciences